

TheCyberQuake

The creator/maintainer of both this wiki and our SMP server that runs Slimefun along with various addons, of which was the catalyst for us to decide to start putting this wiki together. Neither of which would have been possible without the help of UnsavingHalo lending his hardware for us to run everything on.

I am a tech nerd with interests reaching into many sectors, including hardware/software troubleshooting and repair, video production, programming/scripting, console modding, and of course gaming in general. I host some other sites, as well as occasionally post on socials. Feel free to see what I've published and give a follow/sub on any platforms if you like what you see. You can find pretty much all my social garbage in the link below:
